Banquet Thank You from Ron and Brenda

The banquet this year was also a recognition of the retirement of Ron and Brenda Cooper from leadership of The Ark Foundation of Dayton. From those that spoke about the ministry--Tami Collins, Kathy Jones, Mark Jurkovich, Charles Brewster and Dirk Yount--to Ray Collins who dazzled every one with his magic, to the presentation of the AIG Certificate of Appreciation, to the large bouquet of artificial roses (to not upset Brenda's allergies) to the card shower, to John Whitmore's presentation on the Grand Canyon, it was a memorable evening for all attending. But it was a very, very special evening for Ron and Brenda and will remain so for the rest of our lives. Thank You, Thank You, Thank You.

Invite ARKY into your church or group!

Do you want to get more Creation Science teaching into your church or other group? You can now schedule an ARK speaker to come to your location for presentations. All talks help the believer build their faith that all of scripture can be trusted from first verse to last; that the creator of the universe is also their savior and Lord. Your available speakers are Mark Jurkovich or Kevin Had-sall. To book Mark, contact him through arkfoundation@arky.org, or 256-ARKY (2759). Kevin can be scheduled through his website, <https://www.unmaskinghumanism.org/creation-mission>.

Available talks by Mark Jurkovich

Science and the Bible Overview – a one-hour talk showing that when the Bible touches on the sciences, it knows what it is talking about. Scientific evidence is in line with scripture, contrary to secular teaching. Paleontology, Astronomy, Biology, Archaeology, and others all reinforce Scripture rather than contradict it.

Lies in the Textbooks – a one-hour talk pointing out many of the ‘icons’ of evolution taught in our school textbooks that have been proven false, but still show up in our texts. This can be combined with the “Science and the Bible Overview” talk for a two-session talk.

Dinosaurs and the Bible – a one-hour talk showing where dinosaurs fit into scripture. In addition to covering creatures directly mentioned in the Bible, this talk also covers how dinosaurs were on Noah's ark. This talk can be broken down into two half hour talks for upper grade school audiences.

Genesis – “What if Science and faith point to the same truth?” A high-quality DVD series produced by the Institute for Creation Research (ICR) of twelve 22 minute sessions. Topics include Biology, the Global flood, Dinosaurs, the Ice Age, Astronomy, the rise of Civilization, and more. Each talk will be supplemented with other information by Mr. Jurkovich to fill a half hour to 45 minute session. See more about the DVD series at <https://store.icr.org/unlocking-the-mysteries-of-genesis-dvd-series.html>. Optional student guide or viewer guide available for order from ICR. Can be taught over a weekend seminar or spread out over six weekly sessions.

Uncovering the Truths About Dinosaurs – another high-quality DVD series by ICR. This 4-part series provides a thorough overview of the Biblical truths about dinosaurs from dinosaur fossils, to dragon legends, to their link to the global flood, and more. 22 minutes each. Each talk will be supplemented with other information by Mr. Jurkovich to fill a half hour to 45 minute session. See more about the DVD series at <https://store.icr.org/uncovering-the-truth-about-dinosaurs-dvd-series.html>. Supplemental viewer guide available for order from ICR.

Judgement and Grace: The Message of the Ark Encounter – Hear a one-hour talk providing a walk-through The Answers in Genesis' Ark Encounter, complete with dozens of pictures taken at the Encounter. This talk will take you through the Ark Encounter, showing each major exhibit and the message behind those exhibits. See how the Ark Encounter effectively answers just about every challenge that critics throw at the Biblical account of global catastrophe and salvation through one faithful man. The Encounter culminates with the message of ultimate salvation through the God-man.

Some of the many DVDs that can also be presented at your church or group meetings:

The Uniqueness of Man with Prof Stuart Burgess. Describes unique design features of man that could not have evolved from Apes and show we were designed to glorify God.

The Tower of Babel: Can the "Story" be Trusted Today? with Bodie Hodge. Strongly defends the historical truth of this important Biblical account.

The Intricacies of Flight with Dr Andy McIntosh. Animal flight—an amazing testimony to the Creator that could not have evolved.

Science Confirms the Bible: Ken Ham Speaks to Teens. Over a dozen “hot topics” are answered with the humor and intensity that has made this Australian-born educator one of the most-requested Christian speakers in America.

Talks available by Kevin Hadsall

Creation vs. Evolution: Why Does it Matter?

- Discusses the following: The change in western culture from Christian to non-Christian. The loss of Christian morality and biblical worldview. The lack of Christian influence on our culture. Why is this happening? What is the root cause?

Flood Geology - provides an in-depth analysis and defense of the Genesis Flood. Presents a scientific model for the flood. Contrasts the biblical philosophy of rapid, catastrophic processes with the evolutionary philosophy of uniformitarianism (slow-and-gradual). Details the link between the flood and the fossil record. Illustrates the link between the flood and rock layers.

The Age of the Earth - Are you prepared to answer skeptical questions on this topic? This presentation helps prepare you by discussing the following: Unravels the self-conflicting assumption of "uniformitarianism" used by evolutionists. Shows how worldwide processes or

Grand Canyon: Testimony to Biblical Accuracy – Review of Dr. John Whitmore's Banquet talk

By Mark Jurkovich

If you did not make the 23rd Annual Ark Foundation banquet, you missed a great tribute to Ron and Brenda Cooper, and a great talk by Cedarville Geology professor, John Whitmore. Dr. Whitmore has made numerous trips to the Grand Canyon, performing a lot of research while there. So he spoke from first hand knowledge when he gave us "Ten things to know about the Grand Canyon." I will briefly summarize these ten things.

1. The great unconformity: this is the dividing line separating pre-flood rocks from flood rocks. And it spreads around the world. There are no fossils below this unconformity other than single cell organisms.
2. Marine Transgression: a progressive pattern of sandstone under shale under limestone. This pattern is attributed to a rapid increase in sea level or increasing water depth.
3. Cambrian Explosion: The sudden appearance of many fossils with no fossils in the layer below it. This is such a problem for evolutionists, it was born out in a personal story told by Dr. Whitmore. He once had the opportunity to ask noted evolutionist Steven J. Gould about the Cambrian Explosion, and Dr. Gould would not answer. Dr. Whitmore later found out from a former student of Gould that this was one subject that bothered Dr. Gould his whole life.
4. The Whitmore Nautiloid Bed: (after James Montgomery Whitmore, not our speaker). In the Whitmore side canyon are millions of nautiloid fossils in the Redwall Limestone layer. What is unusual about these fossils is that they are mostly lined up in the same direction, indicating they were buried in a strong current. This strongly contradicts the claim by evolutionary geologists that limestone was laid down slowly.
5. Flat contacts between layers: When you look at the Grand Canyon, you can trace rock layers "as far as the eye can see". And in fact, the same rock layers continue for many miles. These layers have no erosion or weathering between them, and yet there are 10-12 million years of time supposedly represented between two of these layers. And the layer between the Redwall and Muav Limestones are supposed to represent some 160 million years! The evidence is strongly against long time periods between these layers.

6. Thin widespread layers: Speaking of the layers going on as far as the eye can see, many of these layers are continent wide, and even pick up again on other continents.
7. Folds: Sometimes these flat contacts between layers got folded at the same time. Dr. Whitmore showed an image of one folded contact layer that was supposed to represent 135 million years between the layers. But with them being folded together, they had to have still been soft sediment and folded before they hardened. No long passage of time is possible based on the evidence.

Coconino Cross Beds: From reference 1, Figure 2

8. Coconino cross beds: the Coconino layer is relatively near the top of the Grand Canyon. It contains a lot of angled layers or cross beds. The secular claim is that these cross beds are fossilized sand dunes. But it is sandwiched between two water deposited layers. And many other details together strongly contradict the claim of desert origin. Dr. Whitmore himself has researched the sand grains of this layer and found they are not rounded or of uniform grain size as should be for desert sand. Mica is also present, which would not be there if of desert origin. Dolomite is also present in the Coconino, which is only found in marine environments. Lastly, the angle of the beds are

BioLogos Debate: Only Spiritually True?

By Kevin Hadsall

In my previous blog post, I shared Part 2 of 7 of my online debate with BioLogos and one of their supporters, LA. To keep my post from breaching acceptable reading length, I had shared only a portion of my response to LA's comment. I said I would share the "remaining" part of my response in the next post, but I forgot that in my blog post planning, I had actually divided my response to LA into three posts, not two. LA had made a comment regarding the church fathers: specifically, Augustine of Hippo. I responded to that with a lot of detail, so I separated that response into its own post. Below is Part 3 of 7 of the BioLogos Debate.

Me

"...and that life on earth began with simple one-cell organisms which increased in complexity over eons of time to include a wide variety of multi-celled organisms."

When has anyone ever observed single-celled organisms evolve into animals? When has anyone observed increases in genetic information and complexity (i.e. a blind organism evolving eyesight)? This goes back to Question #2 in my original comment. Again, how is this based on observation instead of faith?

"A social media site is not really a good place to have a long serious discussion/debate about the conclusions of mainstream science. I suggest you read books on the subjects and perhaps consult with experts in these fields directly."

Again, the "conclusions of mainstream science" is the appeal to authority/majority logical fallacy. I can use the same logic and make the same type of suggestion to you: I can suggest that you read books from creation scientists and perhaps consult with experts in biblical geology, biology, anthropology, and so forth. While those "authorities" are helpful, the only authority that we should appeal to, in an ultimate sense, is the authority of the Word of God.

And by the way, I've been taught evolution and old earth beliefs through public school and secular university. In fact, even though I majored in Mechanical Engineering while in undergrad, I was required to take an anthropology class which indoctrinated me with evolutionary beliefs. I was a non-believer at the time, and the evolutionary worldview was a big stumbling block in regards to trusting God's Word. Now, as a born-again Christian, I have a passion for creation apologetics, and studying creation apologetics actually forces me to study and understand the details of the evolutionary worldview. I actually know way more about evolution/old-earth now than I ever did as a non-believer in undergrad. This way, I am equipped in the following sense: "We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ" –2 Corinthians 10:5 (NIV).

"God's Creation, the natural world, is here for us to study. God gave us our minds. He gave us the ability to reason and to learn how it all works."

Certainly, God gave us the ability to reason and study the universe because we are made in His image (Gen 1:27). With that being said though, can we "reason" apart from God's Word? How did that work for Eve in the garden? This goes back to Question #3 in my original post. Moreover, we are in dire need of God's special revelation, because our hearts and minds are marred by sin ever since Genesis 3. God's Word describes the human mind as "depraved" (Rom 1:28), "dull" (2 Cor 3:14), "blinded" (2 Cor 4:4), "futile" (Eph 4:17), "darkened" (Eph 4:18), "deceiving/deceptive" (Col 2:4,8), "corrupt/corrupted" (1

Jesus and the Flood

By Henry M. Morris, PH.D.

“For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.” (Matthew 24:38-39)

The Lord Jesus Christ not only believed in the special, recent creation of all things by God (note Mark 10:6-8), but also in the worldwide Flood of Noah’s day, including the special preservation of life on the Ark. The Flood in which He believed was obviously not a “local flood,” for He compared it to the worldwide future impact of His Second Coming.

Neither was it a “tranquil flood,” nor a “selective flood,” for Jesus said, “The flood came, and destroyed them all” (Luke 17:27). It is clear that He was referring to—and that He believed—the Genesis record of the great Flood! There it says that the whole earth was “filled with violence” (Genesis 6:13), having first been filled with people, and that the resulting world-cleansing deluge was so cataclysmic that “every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth” (Genesis 7:23). Indeed, “the flood came, and took [literally ‘lifted’] them all away.”

This is what Jesus said, and what He believed, and therefore, those who are truly His disciples must also believe this. The destructive effects of the Flood can still be seen today not only in the biblical record, but also in the abundant evidences of cataclysmic destruction in the rocks and fossil graveyards all over the world. To refuse this evidence, as do many modern intellectuals, can only be because they “willingly are ignorant,” as Peter said in referring to this testimony (2 Peter 3:5). HMM

“...so shall also the coming of the Son of man be”

Indeed, the Word of God is not a “scientific textbook” per se, but it is a history book...and those historical details have major implications when studying historical science.

Tim 6:5, Titus 1:15), “depraved” (2 Tim 3:8), and so forth (using NIV translation).

“I don't believe God inspired the Creation Story to teach ancient peoples the science behind His Creation. Instead, I believe His intent was simply to reveal Himself as the Creator of all things, that He created the universe in parts (or epochs), and that human beings at some point became estranged from Him. It is about our relationship to Him, The Story is certainly spiritually true.”

Indeed, the Word of God is not a “scientific textbook” per se, but it is a history book...and those historical details have major implications when studying historical science. For example, if there really was a global, catastrophic flood about 4,300 years ago, what would we expect to see? Wouldn't we expect to see billions of dead things buried in rock layers laid down by water all over the Earth? And that is exactly what we see in the fossil record. You can learn more about that here: <https://answersingenesis.org/the-flood/>.

Now, if the story is only “spiritually true,” then what else in God's Word is only “spiritually true”? Did Jesus only “spiritually” rise from the dead, but not physically rise?

My last point to LA is critically important. If we can read Genesis chapters 1 through 11 and say that those accounts are only “spiritually true” and are not “literally/physically true,” then what other biblical accounts are only “spiritually true”? Sadly, this is what happens when we try to mix light with darkness, truth with lies, God's Word with Man's word, Christianity with Humanism.

"clocks" are inconsistent with evolutionary time-lines, but are more consistent with the Bible. Illustrates the assumptions and problems with radioisotope dating. Links radioactive decay to the Flood.

Defending Noah's Ark - This presentation provides an in-depth analysis supporting the feasibility of God's saving work via Noah's Ark. Illustrates the true size of the Ark versus common misconceptions. Analyzes the seaworthiness of the Ark. Describes how many animals were on the Ark and how much space they needed. Analyzes manpower requirements in order to care for the animals. Briefly discusses post-flood recovery.

One Blood, One Race - This presentation shows how there is only one race: the human race (Acts 17:26). Explains how we can have different shades of skin color even though we are all one race. Shows how the Tower of Babel makes sense of the various language families as well as numerous "tongue-twisting" legends found around the world. Provides a biblical, scientific explanation for how humans lived upwards of 200, 400 and 900 years.

Dinosaurs, Dragons, and the Bible - This presentation shows how the Bible is the only foundation to properly understand dinosaurs. Contrasts the biblical view of dinosaurs versus the evolutionary view. Relates biblical events such as creation, the fall, and the flood, to the dinosaurs. Presents historical and scientific evidence that man and dinosaurs lived at the same time. Explains the biblical view of why dinosaurs are now extinct.

Cosmology: Creation vs. Evolution - This presentation shows that only the Bible provides a logical foundation for scientifically understanding the heavens. Shows how cosmological evolution fails to explain the existence of stars while the Bible provides a solid basis/foundation. Presents fascinating admissions by evolutionists on how the big bang model fails to explain some of the most basic aspects of the universe. Provides an in-depth solution for the distant starlight "problem". Presents irrefutable evidence that is consistent with a "young" universe.

only on the order of 20 degrees, consistent with water origin, not desert origin.

9. Dating Grand Canyon Rocks: only certain rocks can be radioactively dated. Creation scientist Steve Austin dated many of these rocks and found many dates on the same rock disagree with each other, and that later lava flows date older than some of the rocks it flowed over. Bottom line, you cannot trust radio isotope dating.

10. How was the Grand Canyon formed?: The Colorado river is not actively eroding out the bedrock under it. It is in fact filling up with sediment. Photographic evidence from 100 years ago showed that the river has not changed any of the rocks it flows over. Though no Biblically consistent explanation has been agreed upon, the best hypothesis is a breached dam. There is evidence that several large lakes once existed upstream of the Grand Canyon. Secondary evidence for this is the lack of talas (debris at the bottom of the steep canyon walls); which indicates the canyon cannot have been around for millions of years.

Two other points made by Dr. Whitmore during the talk highlighted the fact that secular geologists are losing their 'evidence' for long ages. Even secular geologists are realizing that fossils are evidence of layers forming fast. And the once supposed desert formed layer is showing strong evidence for being marine laid (i.e. during the global flood).

All this amazing evidence strongly points to a global flood forming the layers and a recent carving out of the canyon post-flood. So, the next time you see the Grand Canyon (in pictures or in person), you can praise our Lord for this testimony of the truth of His Word.

More of Buddy Davis' Cool Critters of the Ice Age

by Buddy Davis , Kay Davis and Lydia Howe on May 25, 2017

Can you say "Baluchitherium"?

The Baluchitherium is considered the largest land mammal that ever lived. It is believed to be a type of rhinoceros. It was discovered in 1910 in Pakistan. This gigantic hornless rhino-like critter was a plant-eater. How would you like this gigantic beast looking in your third-story window begging for a snack?
